The ‘Hitler’s Den’ pool parlor that shocked me on a round-India trip 10 years ago was no outlier. Admiration for Nazism — often reframed with a genocidal hatred for Muslims — is rampant in the Hindu nationalist camp, which has never been as mainstream as it is now.

Preface

The Prime Minister of India, Narendra Modi, presided over a pogrom that killed 2,000 people, mostly Muslims. This was in 2002, when he was the Chief Minister of Gujarat, India.

Because of his role in this violence, Modi was banned from entering the United States for ten years. According to a documentary released by BBC in January 2023, a British government investigative team concluded that he was directly responsible for the pogrom of Muslims in Gujarat. Jack Straw, Britain’s Foreign Secretary at the time, told the BBC that Modi played an active role in encouraging Hindu extremists to attack Muslims and discouraging police from protecting them. Quoting the police response to the pleas of Muslims, the April 2002 Human Rights Watch report about the Gujarat pogrom was titled “We Have No Orders To Save You.”

Modi not only got away with facilitating a pogrom but he was also elected the Prime Minister of India—twice. How did that happen? That question is explored in the pages to follow, but the answer can be summed up in this way: the Hinduization of India under a joint political-paramilitary partnership between the ruling Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) and the parent paramilitary movement called the Rashtriya Swayamsewak Sangh (RSS).

And while Modi’s fortunes continue to rise in India, India’s positioning around the world continues to fall. The Freedom House downgraded India in 2021 to “partially free.” The Economist Intelligence Unit’s Democracy Index has placed the world’s largest democracy in the category of “Flawed Democracy”. In 2022 Reporters Without Borders placed India among the worst countries in terms of media freedom, ranking it 150th out of 180 countries.

This report explains how the The BJP-RSS are establishing the ideology of Hindu supremacy called “Hindutva.” And as Hindutva draws inspiration from Nazi ideologies, the result is the Nazification of India.

Indian Christians and Dalits are equal victims of the Nazification of India at the hands of the The BJP-RSS machine. This report, however, focuses on Indian Muslims, who are the prime target.

We are thankful to the report authors, Sadaf A. and Faiza Zainab Khan; our editors, Dr. Katherine Bullock, Farhana Kara Motala and Abdul Akeeb Shaikh; and our graphic designer, Abdullah Ibrahim.

A note on the term The BJP-RSS Regime:
This report uses the terms “The BJP-RSS regime” and “The BJP-RSS machine.” The Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) is the political arm of a paramilitary movement called the Rashtriya Swayamsewak Sangh (RSS). The Prime Minister and many cabinet members are both members of the RSS, and the RSS chief is guarded with VIP state security in India. Because the BJP’s government policies are linked to extra-legal enforcement by RSS paramilitary street power, we have coined the term “The BJP-RSS regime” and “The BJP-RSS machine” to reflect their intrinsic links and collaborative relationship. They are a single machine after the same hateful goal—the Hinduization of India—much as the Nazis were a single machine.
The Holocaust Did Not Occur in a Vacuum

The Holocaust is one of the greatest modern tragedies. The carnage of the Holocaust did not occur in a vacuum, but rather after a sustained campaign of hate that included fear mongering and dehumanization of Jews. The horrors of the Holocaust compelled research into indicators of genocide. Scholars and human rights activists are now able to identify patterns and stages leading up to a genocide. Early signs include symbolization and dehumanization.¹

Muslims in India are suffering the same type of “othering” and demonization that the Jewish population faced under the Nazi regime.² This is not surprising as the Hindutva ideology of India’s ruling party draws its inspiration from Nazi supremacist ideology.³ India’s equivalent of the Nazi party, the Rashtriya Swayamsewak Sangh (RSS), applies this derived ideology in its teachings and actions. Narendra Modi’s ruling Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) is the political arm of the RSS, which itself operates as a paramilitary organization.⁴ The chief of the RSS is given government VVIP security.⁵

The slogan “Never Again,” said after the horrors of the Holocaust, still echoes throughout the world. However, that promise rings hollow, as the international community remains unwilling to prevent new genocides. Governments remain largely silent on the Modi government’s Hindu supremacist agenda and the growing marginalization and persecution of Muslims and other minorities.

The Universal Declaration of Human Rights was born out of the desire to prevent future flagrant violations of human rights. It lays out universal human rights such as equality and human dignity, which the global community must recognize to ensure peace. When incitement of hate, marginalization, dehumanization, and persecution become commonplace in a society, it is crucial that the international community acts to ensure that history does not repeat itself.

In this report we aim to outline and draw comparisons between Adolf Hitler’s Nazi regime and Narendra Modi’s Nazi inspired the BJP-RSS regime. This is not meant to deny the vast scale of evil and suffering perpetrated by the Nazi Government in Germany. Instead, we hope that this report will provide deeper insight into the very real and present dangers that 200 million Indian Muslims are facing and the realization that Hindutva must be condemned as an abhorrent ideology in the same way that Nazism is.

The Nazi Party is Analogous to India’s RSS

The Nazi Party (Nationalsozialistische Deutsche Arbeiterparte) was both the propagator of Nazi ideology and a political party. Formed in 1920 as the German Workers’ Party by Anton Drexler, Adolf Hitler took over its leadership in 1921. In 1933, as Hitler was named the Chancellor of Germany, he moved to ensure all senior government officials were members of the party.

The Nazi Party had several strong-arm groups that served to protect its meetings and public rallies. While members of these groups were drawn from different paramilitary groups, they were organized under the Sturmabteilung (SA), and then later the Schutzstaffel (SS). The squads were later unified with other security agencies under the leadership of Heinrich Himmler. Under his leadership, the SS squashed any dissent and achieved subordination of the general German population.

Hitler realized the power of propaganda, and in 1933 appointed Joseph Goebbels as Reich Minister for Propaganda and Public Enlightenment. Goebbels’ main task was to project a positive image of the Nazi party and rally people behind its message and leadership. The extermination of Jews was not merely driven by political need; the Nazis believed Jews were impure and needed to be removed from Germany; they methodologically planned and implemented the genocide of Jews and other minorities.

The Rashtriya Swayamsewak Sangh (RSS), formed in 1925, is the Indian equivalent of the Nazi party. While it borrows from Nazi teachings, it works differently. The RSS is not in itself a political party, it is a paramilitary organization that operates via many different branches. One such branch, the ruling Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP), serves as its political arm. The Prime Minister Narendra Modi, most of his cabinet, and many members of the Indian parliament are followers of the RSS and its Hindutva ideology.

RSS paramilitary troops mobilize mobs for violence, while a dedicated information technology department, known as the IT Cell, pushes its propaganda, rallying people behind its ideology, isolating moderates, neutralizing opposing media, and targeting human rights activists and minorities for the benefit of BJP politicians and policies.

RSS organizes 60,929 daily military drills in their units called Shakhas. These drills are attended by 500,000 people daily. It also runs 10,000 weekly social media cell meetings across India. The combined power of the BJP government and the street power of the paramilitary RSS define the Hindutva force.

RSS Family Known as Sangh Parivar

The RSS is a paramilitary organization with over 60,000 branches and 6 million members. Being a semi-secretive organization, not all its affiliated entities are known. This chart has selected only the most relevant Hindutva entities. All are a part of RSS family known as Sangh Parivar, except Akhil Bharatya Akhara Parishad, which is an important Hindutva ally.

VHP
Vishwa Hindu Parishad (VHP). A militant organization founded in 1964 by RSS leader MS Golwalkar as the religious arm. Its objective is to organize Hindus to protect Hinduism. It led the Babri mosque demolition.

BJP
Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) is the political wing of RSS founded in 1980. It claims to have 180 million members. Since 2014, it has been the ruling political party in India.

HJM
Hindu Jagran Manch (HJM). Founded in 1982 by Vinay Katiyar. It works for Ghar Wapsi program converting Muslims and Christians into converting to Hinduism. They are active in anti-Muslim violence.

ABVP
Akhil Bharatiya Vidyarthi Parishad (ABVP). Student wing founded in 1949. Claim to have more than 3 million members involved in violence in university campuses in India.

VH
Vidya Bharati (VB): Education wing, first school started in 1952, but an Apex Body called Vidya Bharati was founded in 1977. Approximate 25000 schools run by Vidya Bharat.

VKA
Vanvasi Kalyan Ashram (VKA). Tribal Wing founded in December 1952. It has footholds in more than 50000 villages and it runs more than 20,000 schools in tribal area to brainwash Tribal children into Hindutva ideology.

Bajrang Dal
Bajrang Dal translated as army of Hanuman is a Hindu nationalist militant organization that forms the youth wing of VHP. It’s members are involved in Anti Muslim violence. They are often armed and were found making bombs. It claims to have more than 4 million members. Its national convener is Sohan Singh Solanki. He spent 30 years as a full-time recruiter for the RSS before joining the Bajrang Dal.

Akhil Bharatiya Akhara Parishad
The Akhil Bharatiya Akhara Parishad (All India Akhara Council). An ahakha literally means a wrestling ring in Hindi but is generally an organizing model of Hindu monks and saints. In the past and increasingly now akharas do arms training. This organization worked closely with VHP in demolition of Babri Mosque. Yati Narsinghanand Saraswati, is now the head of the largest Akhara in India called Juna Akhara which is a member of the Council. He heads 50 arms training centers. He has also announced an award of ten million Indian rupees to recruit suicide bombers to kill 2 million Muslims to expel the rest out of India.

Durga Vahini
Durga Vahini: Women wing of VHP founded in 1991 by Sadhvi Rithambhara. It organizes arms-trainings for women. Accused terrorist Sadhvi Pragya Thakur was its member.

Sri Ram Sena
It was founded in 2005 by Pramod Muthalik. He was a VHP and Bajrang Dal office bearer. Sri Ram Sena was involved in multiple moral policing attacks in Karnataka.

Sanatan Sanstha
Founded in 1999 by Dr. Jayant Balaji Athavale. It claims to work as a Hindu spiritual organization. Its members were involved in bomb blasts and accused of killing activists and journalists.

Abhinav Bharat
Founded in 2006 by retired Army Major Ramash Udaypurya. It was involved in the Malagaon bomb blast that killed 40 people, mostly Muslims, and injured 125.

Hindu Janajagruti Samiti
This affiliate of Sanatan Sanstha was founded in 2002 to create Hindu Rashtra. Its members are accused of killing Gauri Lankesh, an outspoken journalist.

What is Hindutva

Pronounced Hin·dū·tva /ˌhinˈdoʊtva/

Hindutva is a political nationalist ideology seeking to establish Hindu supremacy in India.

The Hindutva ideology, often called Hindu nationalism, is distinct from Hinduism, the religion practiced in India. While Hindutva followers are Hindus, not all Hindus follow Hindutva ideology.

Hindutva seeks to transform India, constitutionally a secular state, into an ethno-religious nation known as the Hindu Rashtra (Hindu nation). Hindutva is the official platform of the BJP, the ruling party of India and the political arm of RSS.

The Nazification of India report is essentially the story of the Hindutva project. RSS is the prime leader of this ideology.

Hindutva ideology dates back roughly 100 years but it has gained tremendous popularity in India under the BJP–RSS regime.

The term Hindutva was popularized by Vinayak Damodar Savarkar through his book, Hindutva. Savarkar was influenced by European Fascism.

The Debate Around Hindutva and Hinduism

Caste System as a Tool for Hindu Supremacy

Hitler believed that the so-called “Aryan” blood, “true” German blood, made them physically and spiritually perfect. By the same token, Hinduism is defined by a caste system that is connected to concepts of racial perfection. The Indian term for caste, “Varna,” means color. At the top of this color caste pyramid sit the Brahmins, who tend to have lighter skin. Then comes the Kshatriya, the Vaishya, and the Shudra. The darkest-skinned Dalits, treated as untouchables, and the Adivasi, or indigenous tribes, are the historically oppressed outcastes of India. The outcastes also include Mleccha, a term applied to Muslims and Christians. Inspired by Hitler’s race ideology, the RSS leaders promote notions of racial and blood superiority, claiming a link to Aryanism as well.

“Hindu nationalism is led by the upper castes and their incitement of all Hindus against the Muslim minority is a ploy that enables them to keep their grip on Hindu society.”
Jean Drèze, Time Magazine, April 6, 2022
Learning the ABCs of Hate from the Nazis

The rise of German Aryan supremacy and the methods employed by the Nazi party in its persecution of Jews provided early leaders of the Hindutva movement with a model to learn from.

“The only stable emotion is hate”
Hitler, 1926

The RSS founder Keshav Balliram Hedgewar, a Brahmin, believed that cultural and religious Hinduism should be the basis for the establishment of the nation. Hedgewar established a series of centers to propagate this idea. In later years, he delegated much of its leadership to M.S. Golwalkar, who succeeded him as the leader of the RSS.

“Jewish purge is a good lesson to learn and profit by”
RSS Ideologue, Golwalkar

In his book, “We or Our Nationhood Defined,” the RSS ideologue Golwalkar states: “...to keep up the purity of the nation and its culture, Germany shocked the world by purging the country of Semitic races – the Jews. National pride at its highest has been manifested here. Germany has also shown how well-nigh impossible it is for races and cultures, having differences going to the root, to be assimilated into one united whole, a good lesson for us in Hindustan to learn and profit by.” The idea of racial purity in a nation was of great importance to Golwalkar.

Hitler knows best
The author of Hindutva, Savarkar

Often called the ‘Father of Hindutva’ Vinayak Damodar Savarkar (1883 –1966), was a Hindu nationalist politician, activist, and the author of the book “Hindutva.” Savarkar influenced the founder of the RSS, Hedgewar, to a great extent.

In a speech delivered in 1940, Savarkar stated: “Nazism proved undeniably the savior of Germany under the set of circumstances Germany was placed in.” He went on to say, “Surely Hitler knows better than Pandit Nehru does, what suits Germany best. The very fact that Germany or Italy has so wonderfully recovered and grown so powerful as never before at the touch of Nazi or Fascist magical wand is enough to prove that those political ‘isms’ were the most congenial tonics their health demanded.”

Banned three times and named a terrorist organization, the RSS has now regained political center stage with Modi’s prime ministership.

Glorifying Nazism in Today’s India
Adolf Hitler, a figure recognized globally as an icon of unbridled hate, is glorified in India and his hateful ideology is shamelessly propagated. There are businesses named after Hitler in the country.36 Hitler is also praised in school textbooks for his achievements, while his genocidal actions against Jews and other minorities are conveniently ignored.37 As the following examples show, “Hitler” as an icon is also good business.

Hitler’s Mein Kampf is a Best Seller in India
The Times of India reports that Mein Kampf has been a best-seller since it was first published in India. The Israeli paper Haaretz reports “Mein Kampf has also gone mainstream, becoming a “must-read” management strategy book for India’s business school students...This infamous polemic remains a money-spinner for publishers.”38

Translations of Mein Kampf in Indian languages being sold at Amazon

Hitler Sells in India
The Times of India reported that “Hitler’s name sells scores of products on e-commerce sites such as Amazon and Flipkart — coffee mugs, Swastika and Hitler posters, laptop casings, motorcycle helmets like the Stahlhelm worn by Hitler’s troops, T-shirts, cardigans, coasters, spikebusters, extension cords, locks, iPhone covers, jewellery boxes, lamp stands...”39

Products Named Hitler are Sold at Amazon India

All of this shows that Indian consumer culture and educational programming are priming its citizens to glorify Hitler. This makes it easier for people to accept the Hindutva ideology of Hindu supremacy as normal for the nation.

Comparing Nazi Laws Against German Jews with Indian Laws Against Indian Muslims

Legally Defining the Enemy & Weaponizing the Legal System

The Nazis promulgated discriminatory laws against the Jews for almost a decade before they began operating concentration and extermination camps. The Nuremberg Laws were designed to instill and maintain racial segregation. The German Third Reich enacted two laws, namely the Reich Citizenship Law and the Law for the Protection of German Blood and German Honor. Using these laws, Germany aimed to reverse the citizenship of many of its citizens. The state would decide who was and who was not a citizen, based on a narrow racial criterion.

The Reich Citizenship Law to Exclude German Jews

The Citizenship Law redefined German citizenship to exclude people of “non-German blood.” Citizenship was acquired by the state granting one a certificate, and only a confirmed, certified citizen was entitled to political rights and protection of the state. Anyone who had 3 or 4 Jewish grandparents would not be eligible for citizenship regardless if they identified as Jewish or not. The intent of the law was to purge Germany of Jewish bloodline.

The result was increased isolation of Jewish communities, thereby making them easy targets of scapegoating.

“Only a national comrade can be a citizen. Only someone of German blood, regardless of faith, can be a citizen. Therefore, no Jew can be a citizen.”

India’s Citizenship Denial Laws Target Indian Muslims

Due to lack of documentation amongst significant numbers of people living in India, proving one’s citizenship is not an easy task. This is especially true for those living in rural India—about 70% of the population. Many have lived in an area for decades without official papers. In the year 2000, only 56% of Indian children had their birth registered.\(^42\)

Taking advantage of this situation, the BJP-RSS regime created a scheme based on the Citizenship Amendment Act (CAA) and a proposed nationwide National Registry of Citizens (NRC). They are ominous echoes of the Reich Citizenship law. These specifically exclude Indian Muslims if they cannot come up with historic documents to prove their citizenship.

The National Registry of Citizens proposes that all citizens of India must prove their citizenship in order to continue to be citizens. If an Indian citizen cannot produce a required set of documents, he or she is subject to detention. Any non-Muslim, however, could then be fast-tracked back into citizenship under the CAA, while Indian Muslims would be denied that path.

1.9 Million have Lost Citizenship in Assam, Many in Detention Camps as New Camps are Being Built

1.9 Million Indians have lost citizenship in Assam, India. Many are in detention camps. New detention camps are also being built. Assam is also the state that was chosen for the first application of the National Registry of Citizens. It resulted in 1.9 million losing their citizenship. What turned out to be a surprise for the BJP-RSS regime was that only 486,000 were Muslims. This is where the religious test of fast-tracking Hindus to citizenship will help. It leaves only Indian Muslims to be detained and deported. New detention camps are also being built in different parts of the country.

The Nazi Law for the Protection of German Blood from Jews

While the Citizenship law sought to purge Germany of ancestral Jewish bloodlines, a Purity Law extended that idea of a pure German volk for future generations.

Designed for the protection and preservation of “German blood and honor,” the Purity Law banned marriage and extramarital relations between Jewish individuals and those of “German blood.” Those found violating the law were to be punished with prison sentences and hard labor. The main objective of the Purity law was to prevent “race defilement” of German women and German girls to ensure the survival of the “pure” German volk.

While the law was ostensibly gender-neutral, the underlying panic about Jewish men targeting Aryan women is clear in how the law specifically prevented Jewish individuals from employing female Germans under the age of 45 in their households, as well as the propaganda that surrounded the enactment of the law.

Nazis Against Relationships Between Jews and non-Jews

“Why does the Jew instigate the German woman to race defilement, systematically and on a mass scale?...What are the consequences of race defilement for the German Nation?”

India’s “Love Jihad” Laws to Protect Hindu Girls

Much as the Nazis did about Jews, India has Islamophobic conspiracy theories of Muslim domination through procreation. While instances of interfaith marriages in India between Muslim men and Hindu women are only around 3%, there is a constant portrayal of interfaith marriages as “anti-national.”43 The pejorative term “love-jihad” is often used to describe inter-religious relationships. The narrative behind the term is that Muslim men lure Hindu women into marrying them and convert them to Islam, thereby putting Hindus in danger.44, 45

Although this propaganda has been found false many times over the years, it persisted to the level that now there are laws about it.46, 47 In Nov. 2020, the most populous Indian state—Uttar Pradesh—enacted the Prohibition of Unlawful Conversion of Religion Ordinance, otherwise known as the “love jihad” law. This law prohibits the marriage of a Hindu woman to a Muslim man, punishable with ten years of imprisonment and an annulment of the marriage. Similar legislation has been enacted in the BJP ruled states of Uttarakhand and Madhya Pradesh and is proposed in two other BJP ruled states. The BJP–RSS militias beat up interfaith couples and sometimes kill them, while the police arrest interfaith couples to enforce the so-called laws.48

Inspired by the mainstream acceptance of the love Jihad conspiracy theory, RSS is encouraging a “Reverse Love Jihad” which involves kidnapping Muslim girls and forcefully marrying them to Hindu men. In just one district out of 741 in India, the district police registered 389 cases of under-age girls as missing or kidnapped.49 By controlling women’s marriages, the RSS thus aims to enforce Hindu supremacy by keeping Hindu blood “pure.”

The Nazi Ban on Kosher Slaughter
On April 21, 1933, Nazi Germany enacted a law that had the effect of outlawing kosher slaughter in the country. While the law did not actually mention Jewish people or shechita (kosher slaughter), it did prohibit the killing of animals for food if they had not first been stunned or anaesthetized. Because Kosher slaughter requires that the animal be conscious at the time it is killed, it no longer conformed to the law.50 This was another way Jewish life was attacked by the Nazi government.

The Indian Campaign Against Halal
In a similar fashion, the BJP–RSS regime is attacking the India meat and leather industry, as a proxy for undermining Muslim dietary needs. As Muslims are perceived as prominent in the Indian meat and leather industry, attacking the industry is thought of as a way to attack Muslims. An Indian ban on transporting cattle except for agricultural purposes is killing the industry and making Muslims jobless.51 In just one state, 50,000 meat shops were closed.52 Muslims—in respect of Hindu feelings that cows are sacred—do not consume beef and have replaced buffalo meat as a staple of the Muslim diet. However, even that meat is now difficult to obtain. While the laws make the life of halal consumers difficult, the BJP–RSS militias routinely attack Muslims transporting cattle for dairy farming. They also lynch Muslims falsely accused of consuming beef. In one instance a police officer who tried to stop a cow-related lynching was himself murdered.53

The BJP–RSS affiliated Hindutva organizations like the Vishwa Hindu Parishad (VHP, World Hindu Council) and Hindu Janajagruti Samiti (Hindu People’s Awakening Committee) have been calling for the boycott of all halal–certified products. These organizations resort to spreading fear in the Hindu community by falsely stating that “this is the economic expansionism of Islam” and that funds procured may be used for Islamic terrorism. They also label halal slaughter54 as being a cruel form of slaughter, similar to the way Hitler prohibited kosher slaughter as a form of animal cruelty.55

Muslim butchers and cattle traders are routinely attacked, and in some cases, the victims themselves have been charged with a crime.56, 57 Muslim restaurants have faced boycotts and have also been targets of mob attacks.58

In November 2021, a smear campaign against halal products was launched by right-wing Hindutva organizations which claimed that Muslims spit in their food to make it halal. A series of videos labelled #ThookJihad (“thook” means spit) went viral on social media during the covid-19 pandemic, accusing Muslims of spreading the virus through their spit. The propaganda portrayed it as a sinister conspiracy by Muslims against Hindus. This propaganda adversely affected thousands of Muslim–owned businesses who started receiving calls to ensure “spit–free food” or even faced total boycott.59

Propaganda by Nazis and the BJP–RSS Regime

The Nazis and the BJP–RSS regime both understood the power of propaganda, although Hitler and Goebbels did not have access to social media. An RSS official, briefing the media, claimed that they operate 10,000 weekly social media cell meetings.

The Nazi Propaganda Ministry

After the Nazi’s electoral victories of July 1932, Hitler appointed Joseph Goebbels as director of the new Ministry of Public Enlightenment and Propaganda. Goebbels envisioned an empire that would control schools, universities, film, radio, newspapers or, in essence, all public outreach media.60

Hitler’s chief architect, Albert Speer, stated at the Nuremberg Tribunal that “what distinguished the Third Reich from all previous dictatorships was its use of all means of communication to sustain itself and to deprive its objects of the power of independent thought.” Hitler was a magician of illusion.61 The cultural historian Piers Brendon has described propaganda as the “gospel” of Nazism.62

The Nazis used public displays, humiliation, radio, newspapers, public addresses, and teachers to propagate their disdain for Jews and to persuade public opinion. Films became a tool to propagate Nazism. Some films, like Triumph des Willens (Triumph of the Will) glorified Adolf Hitler and the Nazi Party. Other films like Der ewige Jude (The Eternal Jew) were not designed to glorify the Nazis but rather to dehumanize, criminalize, and demonize vulnerable minorities, particularly Jews.63

Jews were portrayed as the eternal enemy of Germany, and as feeding off the hard work of “true” Germans. Jews were also shown as conspiring with the allied powers against Germany. At the same time, Germans were portrayed as superior and with the means of providing for a secure Germany. As they moved into France, the same messaging was directed towards the French.

India’s BJP Information Technology cell, Media Control & Bollywood

The BJP–RSS regime operates its propaganda machine differently than the Nazi ministry. It has been so successful that Reporters Without Borders now rates India below Somalia and Colombia, ranking 150th of 180 nations. There is an official information technology cell that is directly run by the BJP. The government applies preferential treatment to ensure the Hindutva ideology is propagated and prevails, while opposition voices are drowned.

The BJP–RSS regime also control media owned by high caste Hindu allies and editors. They oversee platforms that are manipulated by the BJP’s information technology cell and RSS social media cells.64

Before any Hindutva policy announcement, this focused propaganda machinery is ready with emotionally charged prime-time shows, hashtags, memes, & fake social media accounts. Using WhatsApp forwarding the regime bombards citizens with messages in support of Hindutva policies.65

Researchers have documented that the ruling BJP–RSS regime uses social media such as Facebook and WhatsApp to run complex propaganda campaigns that amplify existing attacks against Muslims.66 In a report titled “Communal Conflict in India,” the Wall Street Journal stated that Facebook inflammatory content was up 300% above previous levels in the months after December 2019, when there were protests regarding the Citizenship Amendment Act. The inflammatory content was primarily targeted at Muslims.

Indian Government Creates Fake News: The Wall Street Journal also referred to another report called “Adversarial Harmful Networks: India Case Study” that found that misleading and inflammatory anti–Muslim content posted by individuals, groups or pages related to the RSS are “never flagged” because Facebook does not have the systems to detect content in Hindi and Bengali.67 This means that anti–Muslim content continues to go unchecked.

In addition to this organized propaganda machinery, journalists are often threatened or detained under draconian laws.68,69 Sixty–seven journalists were arrested by the BJP government while nearly 200 were physically attacked by the BJP in 2020.70

India is the World Leader in Shutting Down the Internet: India has become the world’s leader in shutting down the internet to block dissident voices. It blacked out the internet at least 106 times in 2021. This is the fourth year in a row that India was worse than any country in the world. It was worse than Burma which shut down the internet at least 15 times and Iran which shut down the internet at least five times. India even forced Twitter to put agents on payroll.71

The twin strategy of threatening journalists and using their own IT Cell is responsible for Freedom House downgrading India from free to partially free noting its “…crackdown on expressions of dissent by the media, academics, civil society groups, and protesters.”72, 73

India Bans BBC Documentary Critical of Modi then Raids BBC Offices

India used emergency laws in January 2023 to block social media content related to the BBC documentary “India: The Modi Question” which documented that Modi was directly responsible for the 2002 pogrom of Muslims in Gujarat when he was the chief minister there. Then, on February 14, 50 Indian officers raided the BBC’s offices in New Delhi and Mumbai, seizing its journalists’ phones, and searching its offices in an apparent retaliatory move.74

The Nazification of India

Depicting Muslims as Enemies in Indian Movies: The popular and influential Hindi film industry (nicknamed ‘Bollywood’) is increasingly being utilized as a tool to further the Hindutva narrative and depict historical events as anti-Hindu. The movies portray Muslims in a negative light to marginalize them as lesser members of Indian society. Even matters that have proven to be disinformation are readily carried by Bollywood movies. This has accelerated considerably in recent years since Modi has been in power.

A series of films are used to depict Muslim rulers as savage, lustful and treacherous invaders who fought Hindu rulers. This serves to polarize the majority Hindu community against Muslims. These type of movies include Sanjay Leela Bhansali’s Padmavati (2018), Bajirao Mastani (2015), Panipat: The Great Betrayal (2019), Manikarnika: the Queen of Jhansi (2019), and Tanhaji: The Unsung Hero (2020).

Muslims are also portrayed as underworld gangsters, smugglers, and terrorists in Bollywood movies. Negative stereotyping of Muslims has the obvious effect of creating fear and hatred of Muslims, and is the strategy used by the Hindutva movie-makers to mobilize Hindus against Muslims. Such vilification has been the primary theme in jingoistic flicks that prey on hyper-nationalistic fervor in a communally polarized country.

The 2021 blockbuster movie Sooryavanshi, starring Canadian Bollywood star Akshay Kumar, follows the narrative that Indian Muslims cannot be trusted. Muslims are depicted as being anti-national and preying on good Indians. The film stokes the polarizing “love jihad” conspiracy, which paints Muslim men as colluding to seduce or kidnap Hindu girls and convert them to Islam.

The Kashmir Files: A 2022 film based on the exodus of Kashmiri Hindu Pandits in the 1990s creates the binary of the “Hindu Victim” and “Muslim Perpetrator” and ignores the thousands of Muslims and Sikhs who also suffered during the Kashmir militancy. While the story of the Kashmir Pandits’ migration from the Valley needs to be told, filmmakers must acknowledge an ethical obligation of fairness to all sides in retelling such historical traumas. The real intent of the film makers—who are known to be staunch supporters of the BJP–RSS regime—was to portray exaggerated victimization and villainization with graphic communal violence. The Kashmir Files won accolades from BJP leaders, including PM Modi. The movie was provided tax rebates. In some BJP ruled states government officials were given paid time off to watch the movie. There were even free screenings for police officials. The effectiveness of such dangerous propaganda can be observed in the various post-movie reactions of the viewing audience. There are shocking videos available on social media that showed audiences in movie theaters chanting genocidal slogans after watching the film.

Attacks on journalists in India are a major technique of the BJP–RSS regime to silence its opposition. This is the image of a Washington Post tweet which carried image of a full-page advertisement at Washington Post in support of Rana Ayyub, a journalist, critical of Modi, the BJP–RSS and Hindutva. A report published by the New York–based International Centre for Journalists (ICFJ), titled “Rana Ayyub: Targeted online violence at the intersection of misogyny and Islamophobia” analyzed nearly 13 million tweets that targeted Rana between December 2019 and March 2022. The report found a dense, inter-connected network targeting Rana Ayyub every 14 seconds.
Public Humiliation

Public humiliation was another inhumane tool in the arsenal of Nazis that is also applied by the BJP-RSS regime.

Humiliation of German Jews by Nazis

During the twelve years of the Third Reich (1933-1945), Nazi officials and organizations publicly humiliated Jews and others in Germany and Nazi-occupied countries. The humiliation was intrinsic to the Nazi program.

Many religious Jewish men were humiliated when their beards and side-locks were forcibly cut off. Other Jews were forced to pose with Jewish ritual objects including tallitim and tefillin, or to remove traditional skull caps known as yarmulke or kippah. Sometimes the humiliation was compounded by forcing Jews to debase each other, such as having one Jew shave the beard of another.

Humiliation of Indian Muslims by the BJP-RSS Regime

Muslim girls and female teachers faced public humiliation in the wake of the BJP-RSS government orders and a court decision against hijab (headscarves) in public schools. Muslim girls and teachers are forced to strip themselves of their hijab, even though 59% Hindu women in India also cover their heads. It led to RSS youth heckling Muslim girls and snatching the hijab off women on the streets.

In July 2021 and January 2022, two apps called “Sulli Deals” and “Bulli Bai” were launched to humiliate, degrade, and intimidate Muslim women leaders. The apps allowed men to bid on the profiles of featured Muslim women leaders as prostitutes.

In April 2022, a viral video showed a Hindu priest addressing a crowd outside of a mosque in Uttar Pradesh, India, threatening to kidnap and rape Muslim women. Each of his remarks against Muslims were met with cheers and chants of “Jai Shri Ram” (Victory to Lord Ram).

The BJP-RSS regime uses several other strategies for humiliating Muslims:

- Indian government and Hindus blaming Muslims for spreading the coronavirus
- Police stripping Muslims naked
- Muslims forced to chant Jai Shri Ram
- Police beating injured Muslims and ordering them to sing the national anthem
- Beating or lynching Muslims on the basis of beef-eating accusations

A Yearning For Past Glory by Nazis and the BJP-RSS Regime

Nazis Looking to Restore German Pride

A common thread seen in Nazi Germany as well as in India is a longing for the restoration of a supposed lost glory. In Germany, this was directly a result of their humiliating defeat in World War I as well as the Treaty of Versailles.\(^9\)

Public discontent with the treaty created an opportunity for the young nationalistic Nazi party to use it to their benefit. Nazis spoke of the humiliation of Germany and the need to regain its lost strength. The loyalty of Jews was brought into question, and the environment was primed for the persecutions that followed.

The BJP-RSS Quest for India’s Old Glory

India’s militant nationalists have a perceived glory based on mythology and stories from epics such as the Ramayana or the Mahabharata, which they present as fact or evidence of India’s glorious past.

Modi’s proof of genetic engineering and plastic surgery: In Oct. 2014, the Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi referred to the warrior Karna from the Sanskrit epic, the Mahabharata, as well as to Ganesha, the elephant-headed Hindu god. He said, “We all read about Karna in the Mahabharata. If we think a little more, we realise that the Mahabharata says Karna was not born from his mother’s womb. This means that genetic science was present at that time. That is why Karna could be born outside his mother’s womb.”

Modi continues: “We worship Lord Ganesha. There must have been some plastic surgeon at the time who got an elephant’s head on the body of a human being and began the practice of plastic surgery.”\(^9\)

The Claims of Indian Science Congress: In 2015, at a conference of the Indian Science Congress in Mumbai, Captain Anand J. Bodas, associated with a pilot training facility, claimed that world’s first plane was invented by the Hindu sage Maharishi Bharadwaj. He went on to claim that it had 40 small engines and a flexible exhaust system that modern planes cannot replicate.

At the same conference, India’s Minister of Science and Technology Harsh Vardhan made another claim, saying that ancient Indian mathematicians had discovered the Pythagorean

Many scientists, appalled by the wild claims made at the conference, signed an online petition against using the scientific conference to propagate pseudo-science.95

Cow urine & cow dung as cure all Indian extremists refer to the use of cow urine and dung as medicines in ancient India, and the efficacy in treatment of various ailments in Ayurveda, the ancient Indian medicine. The cow is revered by Hindus as a mother god. Since the BJP-RSS regime came to power in India with Prime Minister Modi, there has been a renewed push of cow urine and dung based products.

A number of journals have also begun publishing research reports on the benefits of cow urine. Some of these make wild claims while offering little or no scientific basis.96 Cow urine is claimed to be a divine medicine and effective for treatment of diabetes, blood pressure, asthma, psoriasis, eczema, heart attack, blockage in arteries, fits, cancer, AIDS, piles, prostrate, arthritis, migraine, thyroid, ulcer, acidity, constipation, and gynaecological problems.97

The cow is pre-supposed to be unique in their studies because of its divinity in the sight of Hindus. Some of this research is now making its way into American and European institutions.98 In almost every case, the primary investigator is a person of Indian Hindu origin.99

Believers often take cow urine as a drink, or immerse themselves in a bath of cow dung and water in the belief of its therapeutic properties.100 Cow urine drinking parties were held in a bid to ward off the Coronavirus.101

On the left is a screen shot of an Indian news website about a session judge S.V. Vyas in the district court of Tapi, Gujarat. In his order giving life term imprisonment to the accused Mohammad Ameen for illegally transporting cattle from the state to Maharashtra, he wrote on the Hindutva science myths that cow dung can protect from nuclear radiation. The new report is of January 23, 2023. However, the judges order is from November 2022.1 Indian Judiciary is increasingly compromised by Hindutva ideology and the BJP-RSS regime.2

Economic Boycott of
German Jews and Indian Muslims

Economic Boycott of German Jews by Nazis
On April 1, 1933, the Nazis carried out their first planned nationwide attack against the Jewish people. This was a boycott targeting Jewish businesses and professionals. The Star of David was painted in yellow and black across thousands of doors and windows, with accompanying anti-Semitic slogans. The Jewish badge was then implemented between 1939-1945, identifying Jews within the society.102

Signs were posted stating, “Don’t Buy from Jews” and “The Jews Are Our Misfortune.” There were acts of violence against Jewish individuals and Jewish properties throughout Germany. The police rarely intervened.

Although the national boycott organized by local Nazi party chiefs lasted only one day and was ignored by many individual Germans who continued to shop in Jewish-owned stores, it marked the beginning of a nationwide campaign by the Nazi Party against the entire German Jewish population. A week later the government passed a law restricting employment in the civil service to “Aryans.”103

Economic Boycott of Indian Muslims
Following the Nazi pattern, the RSS-affiliated Vishwa Hindu Parishad (VHP) distributed pamphlets calling for the boycott of all Muslim-owned businesses in the state of Gujarat. The booklets, using stereotypes, urged the Hindu community to take a vow to boycott Muslims. An example from the booklet is below:

“Economic boycott is the only solution! The anti-national elements use the money earned from the Hindus to destroy us! They buy arms! They molest our sisters and daughters! The way to break the back-bone of these elements is: An economic non-cooperation movement.

Let us resolve -
1. From now on I will not buy anything from a Muslim shopkeeper!
2. I will not sell anything from my shop to such elements!”104

A similar social and economic boycott of Muslim businesses was called for via social media in the aftermath of the Delhi Pogrom in 2020. People were asked to buy only from shops carrying saffron flags.105

A BJP member of the legislative assembly, Raja Singh, calling for a boycott of Muslim businesses to a cheering crowd, said:

“Put this in your head, from today, if you buy anything, buy it from a Hindu person not from these traitors [Muslims]. If the 1 billion Hindus living in India follow this ideology, the remaining 250 million [referring to Muslims] will definitely want to convert into Hinduism.”

Emboldened by recent directives against the hijab of Muslim girls in the state of Karnataka, several the BJP-RSS aligned groups and temples banned Muslim traders during Hindu festivals and near Hindu temples. Citing a law banning non-Hindus from having stalls on temple premises, the BJP-RSS run state government defended this move to ban Muslims.

Muslim traders are banned from entering this village: Village Borood, Dist. Manawar, Madhya Pradesh. The poster is in Hindi language.

VHP has put up these type of banners in Mangalore that only Hindu traders can set up shops during the temple fair to be held in the area. The poster is in the Kannada language.

Dehumanization of German Jews & Indian Muslims

Dehumanization of German Jews by Nazis
As mentioned above, the Nazis embarked on an insidious campaign to dehumanize and marginalize Jews years before concentration camps were established. Propaganda posters and films suggested Jews were “vermin,” comparing them to rats and insects. German doctors frequently stated that Jews spread disease and repeatedly propagated the false rumor that Jews were responsible for outbreaks of typhus, a deadly contagious disease spread by lice.

Dehumanization of Muslims by the BJP-RSS Regime
The most dangerous term used for Indian Muslims is “rakshasa.” Thanks to Bollywood, everyone in India knows what rakshasas are. Rakshasas are the embodiment of evil in Hindu religious literature. They are man-eating cannibals. The Hindu god Rama tortured them and buried them alive. Hindutva extremists and Indian nationalists are reviving the concept of rakshasas in today’s India to justify violence against Muslims. A popular Hindu monk Narsinghanand defines Muslims as rakshasas as part of religiously justifying violence against them. This theological positions Muslims as legitimate enemies to be killed. It also legitimizes sexual violence against Muslim women, as Manusmriti, the Hindu book of laws, subjects rakshasas to kidnapping, bride capture, and other forms of sexual violence. Anchoring Muslim classification and dehumanization in the Hindu religious terminology by branding Muslims as Rakshasas has serious consequences.

It is perhaps this context which allowed a well-represented Dharma Sansad (a Hindu Religious Parliament) attended by more than 500 BJP-RSS monks to announce a 10 million rupee award to recruit Hindu suicide bombers to kill 2 million Muslims, following the Burmese model

Hate speech and vilification of minorities and especially Muslims is increasing at an alarming rate in India across multiple platforms such as mainstream media outlets, social media, and public rallies. The Star of Mysore, an Indian daily evening newspaper, referred to the Muslim community as “rotten apples” and called for getting “rid” of the community. At an August 2021 rally conducted at the ancient Jantar Mantar observatory in Delhi, pamphlets were distributed which equated Muslims to pigs and called for the annihilation of Islam.

The Hashtag Jihad Conspiracy Theories by the Hindutva Ecosystem

As detailed below, a number of conspiracy theories about Muslims target them as threats to India.

Love Jihad: A theory by Hindutva that Muslim men are trained to trap Hindu girls through love, then convert them into Islam to grow their population. Several Indian states now have laws against interfaith marriages and conversions because of it. Vigilantes from the BJP–RSS machine often attack interfaith couples; meanwhile, police arrest the victims.

Economic Jihad: A Hindutva conspiracy theory suggesting that Muslims are growing financially by selling to Hindu customers.

Population Jihad: As per this theory, Muslims marry four women and beget dozens of kids to increase their population and gain the votes needed to win elections, with the supposed end goal of declaring India an Islamic Nation.

Halal Jihad: BJP’s national general secretary CT Ravi says that “Halal is an economic Jihad.” It is said that Muslims sell Halal Certified products to earn more to strengthen their community and then that money is used to fund Islamic Jihad.

Naukarshahi Jihad/Bureaucracy Jihad: A conspiracy theory propagated by Suresh Chavhanke of Sudarshan TV that Jihadi Muslims are infiltrating the Indian bureaucracy through the civil service examinations. Only 3.54% of Indian Administrative Service employees are Muslims.

These hashtags are not just a silly pastime for some, they have serious public policy and public security consequences for citizens. For example, the Chief Minister of Uttar Pradesh, Yogi Adityanath, has passed a law based on “Love Jihad” conspiracy theories. Yogi is a Hindu holy man whose law now can send couples to non-bailable imprisonment for up to 10 years. There are now interfaith couples who have been beatened, kidnapped, arrested, and tried in the court.

The Nazification of India: 30
Corona Jihad: Equality Labs noted that there were 98,000 #Coronajihad tweets from April 1-4, 2020. The BJP-RSS machine was in full swing, with everyone from the Indian health ministry to media blaming Muslims for the virus. They claimed Muslims are doing bioterrorism by intentionally spreading the virus to non-Muslims as a form of “jihad.” Muslims were beaten, arrested, and lynched during this hysteria.124

Thook Jihad/Spit Jihad: This conspiracy theory claims that Muslim eatery owners/street food vendors deliberately spit in their food to contaminate it.125

Shiksha Jihad/Education Jihad: This theory suggests that Muslims are using education as a means of Islamic indoctrination. A school was shut down for organizing an interfaith prayer service.126

Flood Jihad: After devastating floods hit India’s northeastern state of Assam in June 2022, claims that the local Muslim community were to blame for the disaster began circulating online. Major influencers with verified account started forwarding it. Assam is a flood-prone state of India where poor Muslim farmers themselves are often victims of floods. Police eventually arrested five Muslims because of fake reports without any evidence to prove any guilt.127

Land Jihad: A Hindutva conspiracy theory suggesting Muslims buy and encroach on properties as part of a campaign to displace Hindus and change demographics. This has led to bulldozing Muslim homes without due process. The BJP-RSS regime has also passed multiple laws designed to ghettoize Muslims.128

DEMOLISHING HOMES ACCUSING PEOPLE OF LAND JIHAD

Muslim are accused of engaging in “land jihad” by illegally building houses. Without due process of law their houses are demolished as a punishment for peaceful protest.

In this photo an Indian student activist Afreen Fatima’s house is bulldozed on Jun 13, 2022. after her father is arrested by the police for being alleged “mastermind” of protests. in Prayagraj in India’s Uttar Pradesh state.

127 Flood Jihad: After devastating floods hit India’s northeastern state of Assam in June 2022, claims that the local Muslim community were to blame for the disaster began circulating online. Major influencers with verified account started forwarding it. Assam is a flood-prone state of India where poor Muslim farmers themselves are often victims of floods. Police eventually arrested five Muslims because of fake reports without any evidence to prove any guilt.127
Building a Cult: Hitler and Modi

Hitler as a Cult Figure

Adolf Hitler realized the importance of creating a strong public image. He rehearsed gestures and poses to present himself as a powerful leader and tailored his dress and speech to appeal to particular audiences. He portrayed himself as a man of the people, an “unknown soldier” who fought for Germany in the First World War, one who rose to head a political movement due to his talent, and one who would alone be able to revive German glory. These notions were popular in Germany’s democratic politics. 129

Modi as a Cult Figure

Similarly, the massive propaganda machinery of the BJP-RSS regime, working under the highly skilled leader and Modi’s right hand man, Amit Shah, has successfully crafted a narrative around the prime minister’s personality that has resonated with the majority of Indians. The narrative that created Modi’s cult following has a four-pronged approach:

• Modi as a selfless leader with humble origins; a “chai wala” and “fakir” (tea seller, holy man)
• Modi as a decisive and strong leader with a “56 inch chest,” capable of defending India against its adversaries
• Modi as a beacon of hope for development
• Modi is an indispensable national leader in the absence of any credible alternative. 130

In short, the narrative is that Modi alone can restore India’s glory.

In Madhya Pradesh a state minister even said Modi is an “Incarnation of God,” like Ram or Krishna. 131

Nazi and the BJP–RSS
Obsession with Weapons

Arming of the Nazis
After World War I, Germany was limited in the numbers of weapons it could make; Hitler wanted to build bigger weapons. These were intended to compensate for Germany’s lack of numbers in comparison with the allied powers. Some examples of the super weaponry that Germany made were the Bismarck class battleships and the V-3 multi-charge cannon. The birth of ballistic missiles, the V2 rocket, and even the abandoned development of a 1000-ton super-tank named Ratte point to the Nazi obsession with megaweapons. Some of these engineering feats sparked technological revolutions and changed warfare forever.

Arming of India and the BJP–RSS Machine
Gone are the days when Gandhi preached non-violence to the world. The RSS, the party of Gandhi’s assassin, Nathuram Godse, now controls the narrative in India. While for propaganda BJP–RSS regime builds statues of Gandhi abroad, at home, Modi leads a transformation away from Gandhi’s teachings of non-violence.

Modi Worshipping Guns: Prime Minister Modi is officially photographed worshipping weapons as the ritual of “Shastra Pujan.” Several of his weapon worshipping photographs are available on his own website.

The Private Hindu Armies: The RSS itself is a paramilitary organization that conducts trainings in 50,000 locations on a daily basis. RSS Chief Mohan Bhagwat claims that RSS has the ability to prepare an army within three days if needed. The term army is very popular in the BJP–RSS machine. Several RSS-affiliated groups have their own militias named as armies. They use Hindi terms for army: Sena, (for example Sri Ram Sena), Dal (for example Bajrang Dal), or Vahini (like Durga Vahini). One Hindu extremist who tends to be less secretive than the broader RSS, Yati Narsinghanand, claims to have 50 training centers for his Hindu army.

Indian Arms Build Up: India in 2021 spent $76.6 billion on defense, higher than Russia, France, or Germany. India is the second largest arms importer in the world. The BJP–RSS regime emphasizes military power. India first tested a nuclear device in 1974, ironically codenaming it “Smiling Buddha.” Since the BJP–RSS regime came to power India is focused on expanding and modernizing its nuclear arsenal, broadening its variety of nuclear weapons and increasing its number of delivery systems.

Indoctrination of Hitler’s Youth and the BJP–RSS Youth

The Hitler Youth

In 1922, the organization of the National Socialists was formed with a special youth branch, the Hitlerjugend or Hitler Youth. The Hitler Youth was designed to train and recruit young Germans for the Nazi regime. As the party's influence grew, so did their outreach. Membership grew from 100,000 to more than 2 million by the end of 1933, an indication of just how effective their strategies of recruitment and indoctrination of children were.134

Under Hitler, the Nazi party specifically focused on youth and on German families. The Nazis realized that to reach their goals, they had to infiltrate the family unit, whereas previously politics was kept out of the home.

In 1945, recognizing that they needed more soldiers at the warfront, the Nazi leadership began recruiting young boys and men from the Hitler Youth group. The indoctrination techniques paid off as the youngsters did not question orders and readily participated in paramilitary exercises.

RSS Youth Training

Just like the Nazis, the BJP–RSS regime is committed to indoctrinating children with supremacist ideology, believing in the importance of “catching them young.”

Vidya Bharati (short for Vidya Bharati Akhil Bharatiya Shiksha Sansthan) is the educational wing of RSS.135 It runs one of the largest private networks of schools in India, operating over 12,000 schools with over 3.4 million students.136

The curriculum of a Vidya Bharati school serves the socialization process and is an extension of the RSS strategy. Often branded as Saraswati Shishu Mandir or Saraswati Vidya Mandir after the Hindu Goddess of learning. The Hindutva agenda is promoted through the core curriculum of these schools.

RSS-affiliated Hindutva organizations also conduct events where disturbing hate-filled messages are instilled in the minds of young children. One such event was conducted on October 13th, 2021 by an RSS-related organization called the Durga Vahini (literally god Durga’s army). Hundreds of members as well as children as young as five years old gathered in Indri City for “Shastra Poojan” or “weapon worship.” Children were exhorted to commit targeted killings of the “enemy.”

In another incident of teaching hate, students at a school in Karnataka’s Dakshina Kannada district re-enacted the demolition of the Babri Mosque. The students tore down a poster of Babri Mosque amid chants of “Bolo Sri Ramachandra ki Jai” (“Say Victory to Lord Ram”). This occurred during an enactment of a play on its annual day, in which they later erected a Ram Mandir (temple) in its place. The school is run by an RSS functionary. A union minister belonging to the ruling BJP government and a lieutenant governor were chief guests at the event.

There have also been reports of minor tribal girls trafficked by RSS-affiliated groups on the promise of education. The illiterate parents of the girls were made to sign affidavits written in English that stated that they were sending their daughters of their own will. The girls were taught Hindutva values instead of being put into proper educational schools. In April 2017, the RSS organized several rallies in the state of West Bengal where young girls marched with sharp edged swords.

Muslim girls wearing hijab were prevented from entering educational institutions in the state of Karnataka. When they protested, arguing that the Indian Constitution granted them the right to practice their faith, the RSS-affiliated Hindu Jagarana Vedike mobilized Hindu students to stage a counter-protest by wearing saffron shawls and turbans to school. It must be noted that while many Muslim women consider Hijab obligatory, saffron shawls or turbans are not an essential tenet of Hinduism and are not commonly present in Hindu households.

Teaching Children to Hate

Textbooks are methodologically changed to depict Indian Muslims in a negative light. The new textbooks promote the BJP–RSS regime and ideology. They glorify ancient mythological and medieval Hindu rulers, demonize the historical Mughals, and glorify the BJP prime minister, Narendra Modi. Here is an excerpt from the grade 6 textbook about non-vegetarians, which is often used as a stand-in for Muslims: “They easily cheat, tell lies, they forget promises, they are dishonest and tell bad words, steal, fight and turn to violence and commit sex crimes.”

These examples are from public schools. In the RSS private schools, they are fed a stronger diet of Hindutva. Young children are not only picking up ignorance, prejudice, and hatred from textbooks, and RSS schools, but are being recruited and trained to become militia members.

Indian media reports that just one BJP–RSS related Hindu monk, Yati Narsinghanand, operates at least 50 paramilitary training camps for his “Dharma Sena” which translates as Hindu religious army. Some camps are open and have been visited by the media, but other camps, according to his followers, are secret so that police cannot access them. These camps are headquartered at a temple at Dasna in the Ghaziabad district of the state of Uttar Pradesh, where the head priest is Narsinghanand himself.

The Times of India, after visiting four of these “Hindu Religious Army” training camps, reported that children as young as 8 years old are being trained in firearms. One of the camp leaders claimed that they have trained 15,000 children in a period of two years.

Schools Across India Propagate Hitler’s “achievements”

“In 2004, when now-Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi was the Chief Minister of Gujarat, school textbooks published by the Gujarat State Board portrayed Hitler as a hero, and glorified fascism. The tenth-grade social studies textbook had chapters entitled “Hitler, the Supremo,” and “Internal Achievements of Nazism.” The section on the “Ideology of Nazism” reads: “Hitler lent dignity and prestige to the German government. He adopted the policy of opposition towards the Jewish people and advocated the supremacy of the German race.”

Destruction of Synagogues in Nazi Germany and Mosques in India

Nazi Destruction of Synagogues

To the Nazis, synagogues served as a powerful physical reminder of the Jewish presence in Germany. In the months before Kristallnacht (the Night of the Broken Glass), synagogues in Munich, Nuremberg, Dortmund, and Kaiserslautern were demolished on the orders of local Nazi party officials. In other German towns, anti-Jewish vandalism became common.145

The Night of the Broken Glass was November 9, 1938. The violence became nationwide. It is named after the smashed glass that covered the streets, from the windows of shops and synagogues that had been looted, burnt and vandalized during the attacks. An estimated 267 synagogues were burned or destroyed during the pogrom.

The BJP-RSS Destruction of Mosques

On December 6th, 1992, a large group of the RSS-allied group Vishva Hindu Parishad, led by prominent BJP leaders, demolished the 16th-century Babri mosque based on the unproven claim that it was built on the site of the birthplace of the mythological Hindu God Rama. This was followed by widespread attacks on Muslims all over India, resulting in the death of at least 2,000 people, a majority of whom were Muslims.

In a travesty of justice, a special court acquitted all 32 accused in the illegal demolition of the historic mosque nearly three decades after the incident.146 Additionally, the land was allocated to the very people who destroyed the mosque on their strong belief that it was the birthplace of Rama, even while the court held that the destruction was illegal.

This is another manifestation of a pliant judiciary under the extremist BJP-RSS regime in which Hindutva ideology takes precedence over all principles of justice and international norms. The court’s verdict stood in stark contrast to the findings of the Union government’s Liberhan Commission, which was constituted to inquire into the demolition.147

At Babri Mosque Demolition the BJP–RSS Mastered Their Key Strategy: Mobilize Hindus against Muslims to gain power

On Dec. 6, 1992, Babri mosque was demolished at the culmination of a months-long BJP–RSS march with 150,000 people led by BJP President LK Advani. The publicly stated goal was to build a Hindu temple on the mosque site. The current Prime Minister of Modi was photographed in the long march standing next to Advani. A former head of Intelligence Bureau (India’s FBI) Maloy Krishna Dhar claimed that Babri mosque demolition was planned 10 months in advance by top leaders of the RSS and its affiliates BJP and VHP. A report, authored by Justice Manmohan Singh Liberhan, found 68 people to be responsible for the demolition, mostly leaders from the BJP.

Hindutva Attacks the Taj Mahal

The BJP–RSS regime is wiping out the Muslim architectural heritage from India. The method is the same as applied to the Babri mosque: First claim that it was a Hindu temple; then attack the mosque; then go to the courts without proof of ownership; then demolish and rebuild a temple in its place. Now an icon of Muslim India, the Taj Mahal, is under attack. A leader of India’s ruling BJP has called for the destruction of this monument of love in Agra to be replaced by a Hindu temple. The stunning white marble mausoleum was built in the 17th century by Mughal King Shah Jahan in memory of his wife, Mumtaz Mahal, in Agra, about 115 miles from the Indian capital, New Delhi. https://www.ndtv.com/opinion/with-its-leaders-taj-mahal-rant-bjp-tests-ground-for-2019-1763867
On August 5, 2020, Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi laid the foundation stone for a grand Hindu temple with elaborate Hindu rituals on the site where the mosque once stood, thus fulfilling his promise to his Hindu-nationalist political base. The event was marked with celebrations by Hindutva groups all over the world, including the USA.

Reclaiming 3,000 Mosques
Militant Hindutva groups often talk about a movement of reclaiming over 3,000 mosques, but specifically mention the Shahi Idgah mosque adjacent to the Hindu Lord Krishna’s temple in Mathura and the Gyanvapi mosque built adjacent to the Kashi Vishwanath temple in Varanasi. A prominent BJP minister has remarked that the “white structure” (referring to the mosque in Mathura) “hurts the eyes of every Hindu.”

Gurugram Prayer Spaces, 2021
In Gurugram, the richest suburb of Delhi, Muslims’ congregational Friday prayers were disrupted by Hindutva groups for months in a row. Faced with a shortage of mosques, Gurugram’s Muslims had been offering their Friday prayers in parks and on empty lots for years with approval from the authorities. About 100 such sites were earmarked for the purpose.

Persistent protests by Hindutva groups prompted city officials to withdraw permission from most of the sites. Every Friday as Muslims began to gather for prayers, foot soldiers of several Hindutva outfits turned up at different areas of Gurugram shouting slogans including “Jai Shri Ram” (Hail Lord Rama), playing loud devotional music and heckling worshippers; their “success” was measured by the reduction in the number of spots where Muslim prayers were previously allowed.

On one such Friday, worshippers were completely barred from prayers as cow dung was spread on the site and an elaborate Hindu ritual of Govardhan Puja was organized where invitees included prominent BJP leaders. Hindutva extremists finally had their way when the chief minister of the ruling BJP, announced the withdrawal of the agreement that had permitted Muslims to offer Friday prayers on government land.

It should be noted that while Hindutva elements obstructed the Muslim prayers, Hindu rituals such as Durga Puja and Navratri are routinely organized in open public spaces all over India.

Tripura Mosques, 2021
In November 2021, at least 16 mosques were attacked and vandalized in the small northeastern state of Tripura by members of RSS-aligned groups. The United States Commission on International Religious Freedom (USCIRF) stated on Twitter, “USCIRF is particularly alarmed about reports from Tripura of mobs desecrating mosques and torching properties of Muslims. The Indian government must bring those responsible for instigating and engaging in religious violence to justice and must prevent further attacks.”

Ghettoization

A ghetto is an area of a city inhabited by certain sections of society, identified by race, religious affiliation, economic or social status. The term originates in Venice, which required Jews to live in a specific area beginning in 1516.

Jewish Ghettos in Germany

After Nazi Germany’s take over of Poland, Jews were forced by the German authorities to move into specific and designated areas of cities. This provided a means for the Germans to separate Jews from the rest of the population. Families were forced to vacate their homes and leave much of their belongings as they were moved into ghettos.

Food shortages, cramped living conditions, and the anxiety of either being forced into labor in Nazi factories or being taken to concentration camps became part of daily life in the ghettos. The Nazis deported Jews from ghettos to extermination camps under the pretext of “resettlement.” A smaller percentage were sent to labor camps or concentration camps.

Muslim Ghettos in India

India’s ghettoization follows a model that is prevalent in the BJP-RSS regime’s majoritarianism. While not forced out directly, Muslims are often denied rental properties in upscale areas of cities. In many cases, renters advertise that Muslims should not apply. The same is true in sales of homes or property, where Muslims are denied access on various grounds. Often a developer flatly refuses to sell to Muslims. In the state of Gujarat, there are laws which ensure that. Often a pogrom of Muslims results in Muslims losing their houses and running to safer neighborhoods where other poor Muslims are living. The result is that Muslims are slowly being forced to live in certain specific areas of cities.

As the BJP-RSS regime in India continues its path to Hinduization of the country, these Muslim enclaves make Muslims into easier targets, surrounded by and dependent on the majority Hindu population.

Pogroms in Nazi Germany and in the BJP-RSS Led India

“Pogrom” is a Russian word which literally means to wreak havoc or to demolish violently. Historically, the term refers to violent attacks by local non-Jewish populations on Jews in the Russian Empire and in other countries. It is now used to describe “a mob attack, either approved or condoned by authorities, against the persons and property of a religious, racial, or national minority.”

Pogroms in Nazi Germany

Before the Holocaust, there were pogroms. The most significant pogrom that occurred in Nazi Germany was the 1938 Kristallnacht, the “Night of Broken Glass”, mentioned earlier. In early November 1938, a young Jewish man named Herschel Grynszpan walked into the German embassy in Paris and shot the Third Secretary of the embassy in an attempt to draw international attention to what Jews were experiencing. This incident was used as a pretext for unleashing a series of orchestrated, violent anti-Semitic attacks disguised as spontaneous outbursts of public sentiment across Germany, Austria, and the Sudetenland region of Czechoslovakia.

In just two days, more than 1,000 synagogues were burnt or damaged, about 7,500 Jewish businesses were destroyed, at least 91 Jews were murdered, and hundreds of Jewish hospitals, homes, schools, and cemeteries vandalized. The attackers were often neighbors. According to orders, the police arrested the victims rather than the perpetrators. Some 30,000 Jews were arrested and sent to concentration camps. Historians view Kristallnacht as a prelude to the “Final Solution” – the annihilation of Jews during the Holocaust.

Pogroms under the BJP-RSS regime in India

Pogrom of Muslims in India is not a new phenomenon. According to the Indian government, there were 3,399 cases of communal rioting in the country in the five year period from 2016 to 2020. But the nature of such attacks has significantly changed since the rise of the BJP-RSS regime. The two most brutal pogroms in recent years have been the Gujarat Pogrom of 2002 and Delhi Pogrom of 2020.

India had 3,399 cases of communal riots in 5 years of BJP rule

Gujarat Pogrom of 2002
The ghastly Gujarat Pogrom took place in 2002, leaving more than 2,000 Muslims dead. The pogrom was part of a larger plan to cleanse Gujarat of Muslims. This “Hindutva experiment” was backed by the BJP government.

A train fire incident in Godhra on Feb. 27, 2002, in which Hindus returning from Ayodhya were killed, was used as a trigger. Muslims were blamed for the fire, but an inquiry later determined that the cause was accidental. Instead of isolating the criminals who attacked the train and punishing them according to the law, the state government unleashed a bloodbath that lasted unchecked for three days. Mass rape, sexual humiliation of women in public, and the battering and burning alive of men, women, and children marked those grim days. Tens of thousands of homes and small business establishments were set ablaze. Hundreds of religious shrines were desecrated and destroyed in this carnage.

Delhi Pogrom of 2020
The ominous echoes of Gujarat 2002 were heard in Delhi in February 2020. At least 53 people were killed and 250 injured. The BJP-RSS machine attacked mosques, shops and houses of the Muslim community which were identified prior to pogrom. Women who were visibly Muslim were attacked. The Delhi police, who report directly to Home Minister Amit Shah, either stood idly by or collaborated with the violent mobs. In what can be seen as a series of retaliatory measures, the victims themselves have been charged and arrested. In other cases, the police have been accused of refusing to file complaints against named perpetrators.

Delhi Pogrom of 2020
On February 23, 2020, the BJP-RSS machine started attacking Muslims in the area which lasted several days, resulting in the death of 53 people, the majority of them Muslims, and the injury of 250. Approximately 2,000 were displaced.

“Prejudices embedded in the government of the ruling Hindu nationalist Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) have infiltrated independent institutions, such as the police and the courts, empowering nationalist groups to threaten, harass, and attack religious minorities with impunity.”

Conclusion

This report’s comparison of what the Nazis did before and during the Holocaust and what is happening in India today clearly demonstrates that India is on a dangerous trajectory to becoming a Nazi-inspired, fascist, majoritarian state, where its minorities and particularly its more than 200 million Muslims face an impending danger of genocide. Genocide Watch has warned that the situation in India has already reached the stages of polarization, preparation, and persecution: respectively, the 6th, 7th, and 8th stages of the Ten Stages of Genocide.169

The world must heed these warning signs and act as a matter of urgency to prevent history from repeating itself. Global leaders must condemn the gross human rights violations occurring in India and pressure the government to hold true to India’s secular constitution. International human rights organizations and genocide researchers need to dedicate resources to work with Indian civil society to understand the architecture of repression and help dismantle it.

Recommendations

Recommendations for the United Nations

1. Appoint a Special Rapporteur for India
2. Enlarge the Office for Genocide Prevention and task them to recommend preventive mechanisms
3. Build greater support for human rights mechanisms in Geneva and New York
4. Ensure that the Nazification of India challenge is prioritized for the Secretary General
5. Ask the Special Rapporteur on Religious Freedom to address the issue of religious freedom for Muslim minorities
6. Ask UN Women to take up the cause of minority women in India
7. Engage the Security Council as far as possible, through resolutions, press statements or Arria Formula meetings

Recommendations for the United States Government

1. Accept the USCIRF’s recommendations to designate India as a Country of Particular Concern and place sanctions against those individual responsible for violence against minorities
2. Use the Global Magnitsky Act to sanction the officers who torture and fail to protect, as well as those monks who are openly calling for genocide and soliciting suicide bombers
3. Establish a Special Envoy office at the State Department to track and combat Islamophobia globally
4. Create a rapid response team led by human rights experts at the US Embassy in India to respond to and investigate attacks against religious minorities by visiting the affected areas, speaking to the victims, their families, and witnesses, and then reporting their findings directly to the United States Ambassador to India
5. Include an expert on Indian Human Rights at any diplomatic and trade negotiation meetings with India
6. Prevent fund transfer from USA to Hindutva groups in India.

Recommendations for the Canadian Government

1. The Prime Minister’s office should publicly condemn India’s human rights violations against minorities in India and calls for genocide against Indian Muslims by RSS and Hindutva leaders
2. Use the Canadian Magnitsky Act to sanction the officers who torture and fail to protect, as well as those monks openly calling for genocide and soliciting suicide bombers
3. Include an expert on Indian Human Rights at any diplomatic and trade negotiation meetings with India
4. Prevent fund transfer from Canada to Hindutva groups in India
Recommendation for Human Rights Organizations
1. Dedicate resources to cover the situation of minority rights in India
2. Work with Indian civil society to understand the legal architecture of repression, and help to dismantle it
3. Educate global media

Recommendations for Genocide Researchers
1. Issue quarterly reports on the India's march toward genocide
2. The International Association of Genocide Scholars must issue their informed opinion on India

Recommendations for Synagogues and Churches
1. Share this report with congregants
2. Organize an educational panel or program on the Nazification of India
3. Closely follow the Holocaust Museum’s Simon-Skjodt Center for the Prevention of Genocide’s Early Warning Project: it lists India at risk for mass killings170
4. Advocate for governmental and business actions to counter India’s human rights abuses

Recommendations for Mosques
1. Share this report with congregation
2. Share it with interfaith partners
3. Organize an educational panel or program on the Nazification of India
